

Exciting New Program!

Starmakers Musical Theatre Workshop

Lets put on a show!

Perform songs , dances, monologues and scenes from musical theatre taught by a veteran stage performer who started out her theatrical journey as a child traveling with the original Broadway tour of Annie, and co-director/choreographer of the longest running children's repertoire company in Southern California. With individual age appropriate material, you will train to put all of your skills together the way they do on Broadway with a grand performance every two months. Students will not only be participating in group production numbers but also receive coaching on solo material. So don't worry if you cannot attend every class meeting, those students will focus more on their solo skills. We will begin every class with a short vocal technique warm up, to better present your singing style and stage presence and presentation.

Classes are on Friday's

*4pm - 5pm, Ages 7 - 17
The workshop session is 7 weeks for $60.*
